An Appeal to the Patriotism of the People of Jackson County.

The prevailing epidemic of influenza is materially affecting the sale of Liberty Bonds. At this date—17th inst—we have absorbed but a little more than fifty per cent of our allotment of $305,500.00.

We have never failed in our duty to our government and the boys "over there"—let us not in this instance.

Do not permit peace talk to lull you to sleep. A failure on the part of the people of America to oversubscribe the present loan would be accepted by Germany and her allies as a recession from our high position to make the world safe for democracy.

If peace were to come today, it would require the full amount now asked to make a good job and clean the Augean stable of autocracy.

PEACE IS NOT IN SIGHT. The German army is not yet defeated; their hell born, devil bred kultur still runs rampant, and the first gun has yet to be fired on German soil.

Until this happens—until the German people are thoroughly convinced that their obsession for world power and dominion is an iridescent dream, PEACE IS NOT IN SIGHT.

There are more people in America today untrue to their President and their government than there are in Germany untrue to that imp of hell whom they call the Kaiser.

JACKSON COUNTY—WAKE UP! WE MUST NOT FAIL—WE CANNOT FAIL!

The campaign closes Saturday, the 19th. Do not wait for a committee to call—for they may not. Go to any bank and buy your bonds. The bank will arrange to carry on such terms as will meet any special contingency.

We must support our Government and our President "without pause and without limit."

Yours for the Fourth Liberty Loan,

H. C. HERRING, Chairman,

Jackson County Liberty Loan Committee.

SAYS NO PEACE WITH KAISERISM.

President Wilson's Answer to Germany's Peace Proffer Invites German People to Get Rid of Autocrats.

Washington, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today answered Germany's peace proffer with a note declaring anew that there can be no peace with a German government controlled by a military autocracy, and no thought of an armistice while German atrocities continue on land and sea.

When the time to consider an armistice comes, the President said, the military advisers of the United States and the Allies will be consulted and no military advantages of the armies fighting the Central Powers will be lost.

The text of the President's answer follows:

"In reply to the communication of the German government, dated the 12th instant, which you handed me today I have the honor to request to transmit the following answer:

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government, and by a large majority of the Reichstag, of the terms laid down by the President of the United States of America in his address to the Congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses, justifies the President in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the allied governments, and the President feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolute satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the Allies in the field. He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the Allied governments.

"The President feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor the Allies are in any way bound by the peace proffer which is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhuman practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea, and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain, not only, but often of their very inhabitants. The nations associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding, that the President should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the President delivered at Mount Vernon on the fourth of July last. It is as follows:

"The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately and of its single choice, disturb the peace of the world, or, if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency."

"The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described. It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it. The President's words, just quoted, naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The President feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing.

(Signed) "ROBERT LANSING.

"The President will make a separate reply to the royal and imperial government of Austria-Hungary.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration.

"To Frederick Oederlin, Charge d'Affaires, ad interim, in charge of German interests in United States."

U. S. PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE cooperating with STATE BOARD OF HEALTH INFLUENZA NOTICE.

This bulletin is published in order to make clear to the public what is hoped that the ban upon gatherings of any kind will have a direct effect upon the present epidemic of influenza. The reasons are as follows:

(1) The disease germs are in large numbers in the respiratory tract and may be discharged into the air when a person coughs or sneezes.

(2) It is therefore beyond question that the greater the crowd in a given space the greater will be the chance that a given person will inhale the organisms, and the greater will be the chance that a given person will inhale a large number of the germs at one time.

A given person contracts the disease not because he takes in one influenza germ but because he takes in more influenza germs at one time than his body can overcome. If he takes in less organisms than this number his body overcomes them and in so doing builds up increased resistance against further and heavier infections; this may be compared to the fact that a person who exercises builds up muscle.

(4) Since cutting down crowds reduces the number of germs a person is apt to inhale at any one time a greater number of people will have a chance to build up resistance.

(5) Again, preventing crowds reduces the "explosiveness" of the epidemic; that is, it reduces the number of people getting sick at one time, and therefore keeps the physicians from being so badly overworked that they cannot care for all of their patients properly. This would be certain to result in a large number of pneumonia cases and hence in a large number of deaths.

(6) Preventing crowds therefore works in three ways to combat the epidemic: it keeps a large number of people from becoming infected at all; it causes many of the infections to be light infections which the person can resist and which as can be seen build up increased resistance; and finally, it slows down the number of cases appearing at one time and enables the physicians to prevent a large number of pneumonia cases and deaths.

HENCE

Do not enter crowded stores; use the phone to order.

Do not go visiting.

Never sneeze or cough except into a handkerchief.

FURTHER

If you contract influenza do not become discouraged. You are practically certain to recover if you consult a physician at once and go to bed and STAY IN BED until you are entirely well. DO PRECISELY what he tells you, both so that you may recover quickly and so that you may be the least possible danger to the rest of your family.
